

Eat, Drink, and Be Creative!

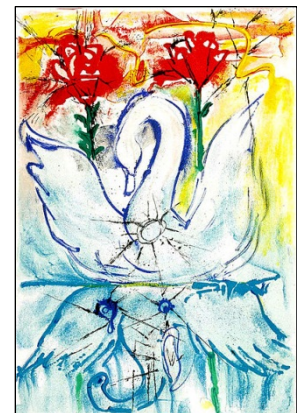

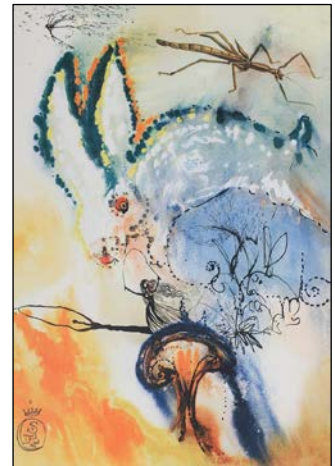

Convention begins on Friday, but many attendees arrive on Thursday. Therefore, the Convention Committee has arranged a fun event where you'll have dinner, drink wine, view art, and create your own masterpiece to keep!

WHAT: 2017 SCCCW Pre-Convention Activity
 Enjoy a private reception with wine and a buffet dinner (chicken with wild rice*, collards, green beans, salad, desserts, and water/tea/lemonade), a guided tour of the Columbia Museum of Art's two traveling exhibits (Salvador Dali's Fantastical Fairy Tales & Enduring Spirit: The Art of Tyrone Geter), and a hands-on activity where you will produce your own whimsical, Dali-inspired, watercolor screen print to take home.

WHEN: Thursday, March 23, 2017, 6:00 (promptly!) to 8:00 p.m.

WHERE: Columbia Museum of Art, 1515 Main Street
(diagonally across the street from the Marriott)

COST: $40/person
(covers museum admission, guided tour, activity, buffet dinner, & wine)

See 36 colorful prints from one of the great modern artists of the 20th century on loan from The Dalí Museum. View almost two dozen large-scale charcoal and pastel drawings from one of Columbia's premier African-American artists. Incorporate what you've experienced into your own creation—and no artistic talent is needed!
